

Importance of Personality Defect Removal & inculcating virtues

Preface

While considering an individual's happiness and contentment in life, due consideration has to be given to his temperament. The behaviour of an individual is a good indicator of his temperament. Behaviour, however, depends on his attitude. The attitude in turn is influenced by defects as well as virtues. Personality defects are detrimental to an individual's happiness-contentment while virtues complement it. Personality defects make an individual's life stressful. An individual's personality defects are detrimental to society as well as Nation. This in turn adversely affects personal life too. In nut shell, PDR and inculcation of virtues is necessary to lead a happy and peaceful life.

It is a normal practice to intellectually understand the underlying science before attempting something new. It helps us comprehend the importance better. Anything done with the knowledge of the underlying science takes place with greater interest, resulting in it being more effective. By understanding the immeasurable harm caused by personality defects, the benefits obtained at various levels upon their elimination and inculcation of virtues helps us effectively impress upon our mind the importance of the PDR process and inculcation of virtues. All this will also help us implement this process regularly, consistently, and effectively.

In 'Chapter 1 - Importance of personality defects removal' of this Holy text, points given ahead have been elaborated upon - Function of the mind; the creation of sanskārs; misconceptions about PDR and the underlying reasons; the harm caused to personal life by personality defects etc. 22 Personality Defect Removal : Vol. 1 Information on the harm caused by personality defects in different Paths of Spirituality, the immeasurable harm caused to vyaśṭi as well as samasṭi sāḍhanā has also been provided. Similarly, information such as the science underlying the elimination of distress caused by negative energies because of personality defects which hamper an individual's material and spiritual progress, the reasons for social and national problems resulting from personality defects and the integrated approach towards them have also been discussed. To prevent the increase in the number of pages, the details of this process have been provided in the second part of this series.

To develop an effective and ideal personality essential for success in various spheres of life, efforts have to be made for inculcation of virtues as well as implementation of PDR process. More information on the importance of the process of inculcating virtues, its benefits, the efforts required at various stages of this process etc. has been provided in 'Chapter 2 - The process of inculcating virtues' of this text.

Our prayer unto the Holy feet of Shrī Guru is that upon studying this Holy text series, may the readers make their life happy through efforts for PDR and inculcation of virtues, and also become active for the holistic development of the Nation through abiding by Dharma. - Compiler

Index

1. The mind	25
1A. According to Spirituality	25
1B. According to modern psychology	26
1B 1. The conscious mind	26
1B 2. The subconscious mind	26
2. Sanskārs (Subconscious impressions)	29
3. Personality	31
3A. Virtues and defects in personality	31
4. Process of personality defect removal	33
5. Misconceptions about PDR process	33
6. Reasons for misconceptions about PDR	35
7. Importance of PDR for happiness in life	37
7A. Mind controls our actions - the real reason for the need of PDR	37
7B. Harm caused by personality defects	38
7B 1. Pertaining to worldly life	38
7B 2. From the spiritual perspective	42
8. Personality defects and Saints	57
8A. Importance of eliminating personality defects as told by Saints	57
8B. Efforts made by Saints to eliminate personality defects	57
9. Benefits of PDR process
9A. From the worldly perspective	58
9B. From the spiritual perspective	68

10. Importance of the PDR process in making social life happy	78
10A. Relation of happiness in vyasṭi life with that in samasṭi life	78
10B. Eliminating personality defects in the context of the society and the Nation	78
10C. Importance of abiding by Dharma from the perspective of overcoming personality	83
10C 1. Importance of PDR in abiding by Dharma	85
11. All-round measures to make social life happy and prosperous	86
12. Benefits after death	93
12A. Receiving a seat in higher loks (Subtle regions)	93
12B. Attaining Sāyujyamukti (Liberation from the bondage of birth and death) through appropriate vyasṭi and samasṭi sādhanā	94
13. Solving the queries of some inquisitive seekers about personality defects	95