

Stories with Morals

Preface

Dear children ! You read monthly magazines or stories such as ‘Cinderella’, ‘Little Red Riding Hood’, and watch cartoons on TV which create inappropriate impressions in your mind. These programmes entertain you, but do not help you in inculcating virtues. It is important to inculcate virtues as it makes our life ideal. The stories in this Text will not only entertain you, but will also teach you how to lead a virtuous life, as you will obtain knowledge on ideal behaviour, spiritual practice, love for others, devotion to God etc.

Dear children ! You should make efforts to practise the morals and teachings of these stories in your daily life. After reading the stories of devotees and those individuals who make many sacrifices for their country, your love for God and your country should increase and you should also make sacrifices for God; for example - you should dedicate some time to chanting every day. By reading the stories of Saints and disciples you will understand why they were dear to God. Follow a spiritual lifestyle daily and inculcate devotion towards God in every action you perform. After completely reading this text, re-read the stories during your holidays or during festivals, vacations and contemplate over the stories. You may also attend satsangs for children and youth to understand how to lead a virtuous life.

We pray unto the Holy feet of the Guru that - ‘On understanding the morals of these stories, may all become devotees and increase their love for God’. - Compilers
